

Crypto News Website of the Year

DC Forecasts

DC Forecasts is one of the most popular online cryptocurrency news sites handling a variety of subject matters from price movements to crypto coin updates, coin analyses and rumours. The site offers news on all major cryptocurrencies such as Bitcoin, altcoin, blockchain as well as the latest updates on the technology behind crypto. Each year, DC Forecasts delivers more than 8,000 unique news stories, 4,000 news alerts, 10,000 images and thousands of video stories, expert analyses and investigative reports. Their team is comprised of award-winning copywriters, advanced researchers and marketers that are dedicated to success.

The team at DC Forecasts is full of experts, traders and analysts that are knowledgeable and able to handle complex topics from the crypto space – writing them in a simple and easy-to-digest manner. With a dedicated team of copywriters and a strict editorial process which guarantees quality, the website offers informative and educational news stories. Because of this, the publication has remained true to its integrity and freedom from bias. The judges believe that this is what sets DC Forecasts apart from the competition which is less specific about the quality of content they produce and distribute. As a result, DC Forecasts has established itself as the go to crypto news source for newbies, experienced traders and digital currency enthusiasts alike.
